Coast Slayings: Trap of Death

GRASS VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—A mother and her four children were shot to death and police arrested her estranged husband Sunday in the fourth of a series of mass slayings which have taken 35 lives in the Sierra Nevada foothills.

"There wasn't much of a way for them to go. They were more or less trapped," Nevada County Sheriff Wayne Brown said of the victims, whose bodies were found dressed in nightclothes in bedrooms of a shingled cottage in a quiet, wooded area.

"I imagine it was due to the estrangement in the marriage," said Brown. "It very easily could be marital difficulties."

Charlene Sheriff Vichi, 31, and her four youngsters were slain at her parents' home in a small village 10 miles south of here in gold rush country. Her parents were critically wounded.

The children were Michelle Sheriff, 13, Steven Sheriff, 10, David Vichi, 4, and Tina Vichi, 1½, who had been living with their grandparents and attending school in Grass Valley.

The contract will provide new sidewalks and street work in the code enforcement areas, primarily in the rear lots of the Central Broadway area bounded by Clinton Avenue. (Freeman photo by Krul).

Cornell Study Group Reports . . .

Expansion of Air War

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — The Nixon administration is expanding the air war over Indochina even as American ground combat involvement in the Vietnam war declines, according to a study group associated with Cornell University's Center for International Studies.

The 20-member group released a preliminary report today based on six months of interviews with experts within and outside the government, as well as on transcripts of Congressional hearings and on the available literature, including the Pentagon papers.

The group said the study was the first comprehensive analysis of the air war over Indochina.

Citing Defense Department statistics, the report says that by the end of 1971 the Nixon administration will have used 2,916,000 tons of bombs in Indochina—more than the 2,865,000 tons dropped in the previous five years under the Johnson administration.

The study concludes that the massive use of air power in Indochina was "self-defeating," because it stiffened the morale of America's adversaries and turned world opinion against the U.S., while failing to achieve any significant military gains.

Prof. Raphael Littauer, a Cornell nuclear physicist who bombarded Indochina for guerilla war," is both inefficient and indiscriminate," the study group argues.

In addition to the lack of military achievements, the air war has resulted in heavy civilian casualties, the report says. The study group cites testimony at Congressional hearings indicating that there have been at least a million civilian deaths. The allies in South Vietnam alone, including 325,000 deaths. The bombing has created six million refugees—a third of South Vietnam's population—according to the testimony.

The bombing has also done "incalculable" damage to the ecology of Indochina, with the destruction of millions of acres of forest and farm land, the study group says.

...Massive Bombing Strike

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. planes struck North Vietnamese air defenses 150 miles north of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) today in the deepest bombing penetration since the 1968 halt of large-scale bombing in North Vietnam.

The double-barreled attacks against an air field at Quang Lang, 150 miles above the DMZ, and against airfield defenses at Vinh, followed two strikes into North Vietnam Sunday in what the U.S. command calls "protective reaction" strikes above the DMZ.

Quang Lang is on north-south Highway 7 about 40 miles inland from the Gulf of Tonkin and is about 160 miles south of Hanoi. Vinh, a major North Vietnamese city, has been reported to be the site of a MIG fighter plane base, though no MIGs have been reported in action in months.

U.S. military spokesman said the raids were carried out by F4 Phantom jet fighter bombers but gave no explanation why the United States would suddenly resume bombing of North Vietnamese airfields after staying away from them for at least a year and a half.

On Sunday four F4 Phantoms escorted an unarmed camera-equipped F4 Phantom reconnaissance plane bombed Communist gunners "in the vicinity of the Dong Hoi airfield" 40 miles north of the Demilitarized Zone after the spy plane was fired upon.

Dong Hoi, the first major city above the DMZ separating North from South Vietnam, was the first target of American bombers in the Indochina War in August, 1964. Its airport has been known to house MIGs but no MIGs have been reported sighted since the Laos invasion of last spring.

Although the raid was listed as "in the vicinity" of Dong Hoi airfield, those conducted today were on the airfields themselves "and the runways are in the vicinity of where the bombs were aimed," the spokesman said.

Most of the "protective reaction" strikes in the past have been directed at North Vietnamese surface-to-air (SAM) missile sites guarding the passes along the mountain openings into Laos. U.S. planes have fired on the SAM sites when their electronic devices warned them that they had been picked up by North Vietnamese radar.

Announcement of the raids came as U.S. troop strength dropped to a six-year-low of 121,100 men last week in a withdrawal program that is expected to shrink American forces in Vietnam to a largely advisory and supply operation by next summer.

The command said that American military manpower fell by 5,600 last week, the biggest one-week drop since the week ended last May 6 when 6,300 men left for home.

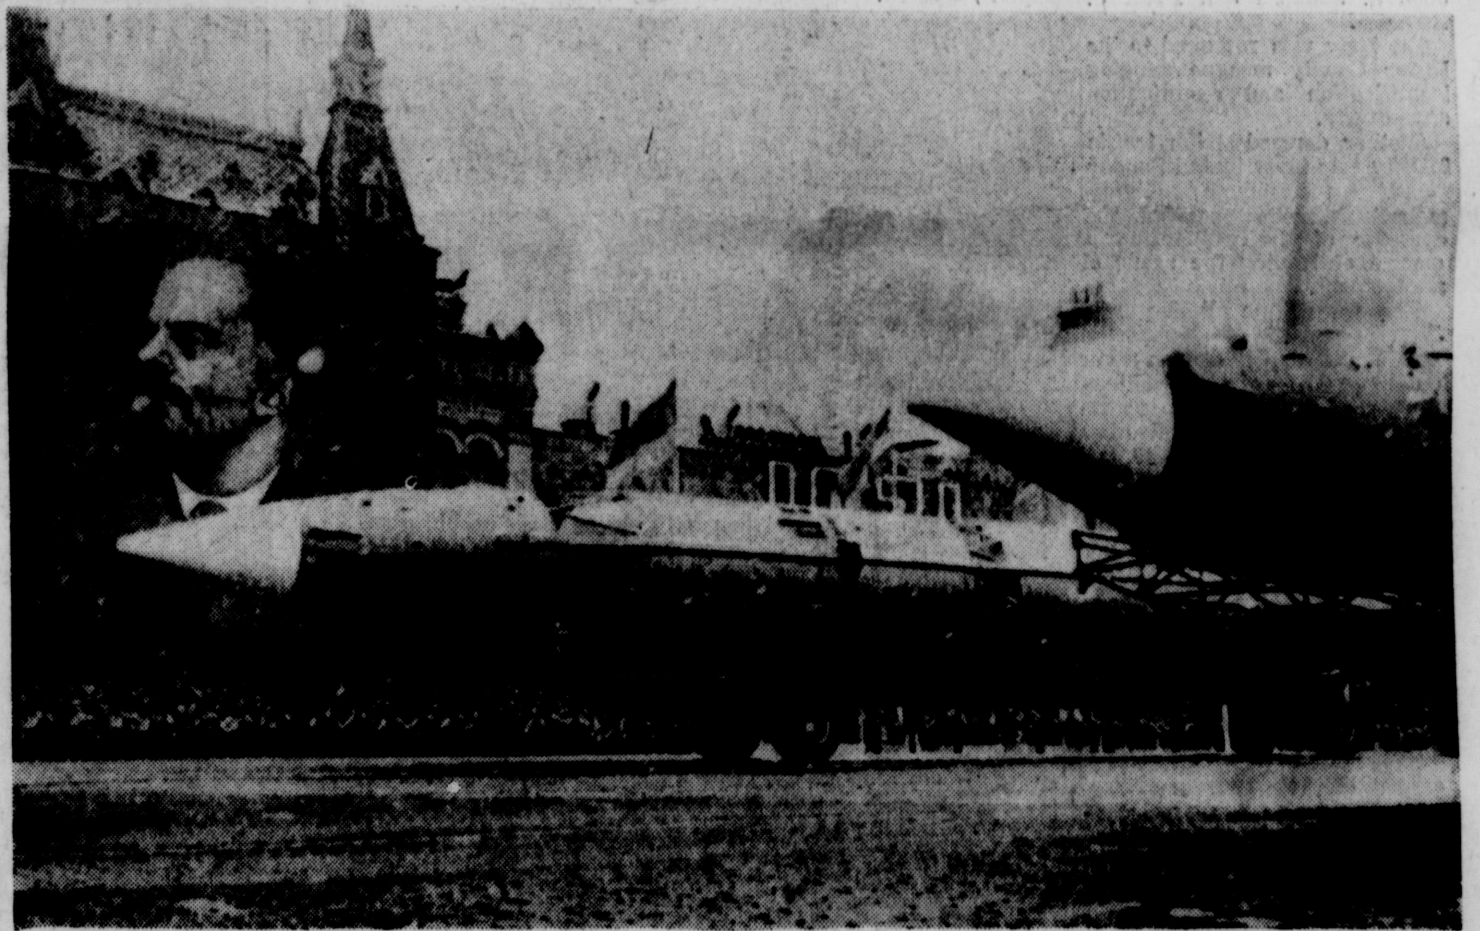

The 121,100 men remaining were the fewest since December, 1965, when 184,300 U.S. servicemen were in the war zone during the greatest buildup period. President Nixon has set a goal of no more than 184,000 men left in Vietnam by Dec. 1.

Officials here say, however, that it was believed Nixon would further cut the U.S. commitment to no more than 50,000 men, noncombative force by next June, only seven months from now.

Communist troops, meanwhile, today released a West German school teacher held captive since August. The German, Peter Shrader-Rottmers, 28, was escorted to an abandoned airfield by his captors early this morning in an area about 12 miles from the vocational school in which he taught in Quang Ngai Province.

German Embassy spokesmen said they understood he was in good physical condition and would be evacuated to West Germany after several days' rest.

He was the second man to be released by the Viet Cong in a month. Guerrillas last month turned loose U.S. Army S.Sgt. John Sexton of Warren, Mich., in what was apparently an effort to free two high-ranking prisoners they believed were in the hands of the allies.

Colonel Herbert's Painful Decision

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "I have been shot five times and bayoneted three times, none of which was as painful to me as the decision I must now announce," said Lt. Col. Anthony Herbert in revealing plans to quit the Army early next year.

Herbert, the most highly decorated U.S. enlisted soldier of the Korean War, revealed Sunday he would submit a request today for retirement because of alleged harassment resulting from his charges that fellow officers covered up Vietnam atrocities.

"Thus I end a career," said the 41-year-old native of Herminie, Pa., who has spent 22 years in the service. The retirement statement was issued through his civilian attorney, Morris Brown of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Herbert cited what he termed "intolerable" stress on his family and personal harassment by the Army as factors contributing to his retirement. He said he is eligible to retire Feb. 29, 1972.

In Washington, the Pentagon declined to comment.

Herbert has declined to speak personally with the news media recently because, his attorneys say, he is under the impression the Army has prohibited him from doing so without written permission from superiors.

A firm denial of the charges of harassment and "muzzling" was voiced last Thursday by Col. Tom Reid, deputy commanding officer at Ft. McPherson where Herbert is stationed.

But Brown said Herbert "has made every effort to obtain within the Army the right to speak freely" and has been "repeatedly denied that right."

The attempts—thus far successful—to silence Col. Herbert have included the cancellation of previously granted permission to appear on national television; the cancellation of leave time granted and the refusal to grant him a portion of his 63 days earned leave time.

and now the requirement of Pentagon level approval of interviews to which he is willing to submit.

Herbert's feud with the Army flared openly last March after he accused Maj. Gen. John W. Barnes and Col. J. Ross Franklin of dereliction of duty and misperception (concealment of a felony) for allegedly failing to pass on reports of what Herbert called incidents of murder and torture of civilians in Vietnam in 1969.

Charges against Franklin were dismissed last July and those against Barnes were dropped when Maj. Gen. Roland M. Gleszer, commander of the military district of Washington, concluded "the available evidence did not establish the commission of alleged offenses."

Herbert charged that during the 58 days he served as a battalion commander he reported to Franklin one murder of a Vietnamese woman which he witnessed, two other murders which were reported to him, three specific instances of torture which he witnessed and other instances of torture which were reported to him.

Franklin filed an efficiency report describing Herbert as undependable, uncooperative and without integrity, moral courage or loyalty. However, last Oct. 8 Secretary of the Army Robert F. Froehke ordered the report purged from Herbert's file on grounds it "contains some unwarranted expressions of opinion."

He said he was called a "liar, a cheat, a crook . . . disloyal," by Barnes and Franklin and was relieved of his command.

Barnes and Franklin served as commander and deputy commander of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, while Herbert was its inspector general and later commander of its 2nd Battalion.

Christmas Club Checks

$4.1 Million to County Residents

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON Lots of bells and lots of coin will be jingling in Ulster County soon as pre-holiday Christmas Club checks totalling a record $4.1 million go into the mails this week.

This year's cash bonanza is about $500,000 more than the amount distributed by area banks last year and is intended to send shoppers into the market place to kick off the holiday season with Yule spirit and a spirit of spending.

The majority of the banks in the area noted increases in Christmas Club savings, some of which is attributed to the fact that several banks now pay dividends on the savings plan and this has added to the total of shopping money being sent out to participants.

Among Kingston banks, Bankers Trust with four city branches, and a number in the county and elsewhere, will send out $997,661.63 to 6,200 club members.

Rondout Savings increased its Christmas Club revenue this year and will mail $168,211 to its customers while Rondout National Bank's checks total $433,000, also an increase over last year.

Special

Saugerties National Bank will pay out $165,838, down from $215,000 in 1970 and Saugerties Savings Bank will distribute $307,708, up about $175,000 over last year.

Kingston Trust in the city reports a total of $931,000 in checks, down from $1,019,000 last year, and Kingston Savings, with 1,814 accounts, increased the amount of Christmas Savings from $196,000 to $277,249.

Ulster Savings, in the City of Kingston, reports $385,866, an increase over last year's total of $210,000.

The National Bank of Orange and Ulster County, including its branches in Shokan, Rosendale, Woodstock and West Hurley, lists checks totalling $103,555, an increase over last year's $93,019.

Savings and Loan Association of Kingston records $156,500 down from $207,000 in 1970.

New Paltz Savings Bank is mailing out $122,376 compared to $85,000 last year and the First National Bank of Rhinebeck's club checks amount to $100,817, up from $90,000 last year.

While savings-conscious people are getting ready to merrily spend their diligently saved dollars, area banks are already beginning to urge customers to repeat the performance for next year by opening up new Christmas Club accounts now.

Accidents Claim Three Lives

ELLENVILLE—Traffic accidents over the weekend in Ellenville, Monticello and the Orange County community of Greenwood Lake claimed the lives of two women pedestrians and a 19-year-old youth who was killed when his car crashed into a stone pillar west of Monroe.

State Police at the local station said the woman victim of the hit-and-run fatality that occurred early today on Route 52 about three miles west of this village has not been identified. Troopers said she apparently was not a resident of the county. She was described as a middle-aged white woman.

Teletype alarms were sent out requesting anyone having any information regarding the identity of the woman or the accident, to call State Police immediately.

Ulster County Coroner William S. Keyser investigated at the scene with Lieutenant W. L. Shurter, BCI Investigator Edward V. Whalen, Sergeant Daniel M. Scribner and Troopers John J. Schetzel and Peter J. Brennan.

The body was removed to the Ulster County morgue pending identification and examination of the body.

Another car-pedestrian traffic fatality was investigated Sunday night by Sullivan County authorities, who arrested the operator of the vehicle on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Ferndale State Police said Jean Taggart, 30, of Monticello, was struck and killed by a car on Route 17B near the Sullivan County community. The victim was walking along the highway when the mishap occurred and the operator of the car, Wayne Young, 24, of Monticello, was taken in custody about two hours later, 20 miles northwest of the scene of the fatality. Young was also cited for driving while intoxicated, operating an unregistered motor vehicle and having no insurance. Police said he faces additional charges involving the woman's death.

Orange County authorities also reported a weekend fatal traffic mishap.

State Police at Monroe said Robert J. Strauss Jr., 19, of Forest Park, Greenwood Lake, died Sunday at Horton Memorial Hospital Middletown, of injuries he sustained Friday night when his car went out of control and smashed into a stone pillar off Lake Road two miles west of Monroe.

Authorities said neither Strauss or six passengers used seat belts.

One passenger, Andrew Aquino, 17, of Sterling Forest, had not regained consciousness this morning and remained on the critical list at Arden Hill Hospital, Goshen.

Ulster Inspection Nears Completion

KINGSTON—Inspection of storm damage inflicted by hurricane Doria in the first two weeks of September in nine Ulster County communities is nearing completion in preparation for filing for funds under a $220,000 allocation by the federal government.

A report of the progress of investigators of the Federal Highway Administration, Corps of Army Engineers and the Environmental Protection Agency, has been made by Charles L. Arnold, Civil Defense and Natural Disaster director.

Arnold said the original estimate of the damage totaled $285,000, however only $220,000 was allocated according to the office of Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr.

Ulster County is one of 13 counties in the state given disaster status for federal assistance for the restoration of bridges, highways or other municipal damage caused by the storm.

In addition, individual residents can receive aid in clearing land of flood damage, while businesses can receive federal disaster loans from the Small Business Administration. Through the Farmers Home Administration, loans will be made to finance crop production, replace livestock and for other necessary expenses in restoring normal farming operations. Applications will be received by the FHA office in Kingston.

When engineers reports have been filed the county will ask for an advance. Municipalities may file for disaster funds through the County Civil Defense Office in the County Office Building. The greater portion of damage was in Highland and the Town of Lloyd. Other damage reports were filed for Rochester, Wawarsing, Hurley, Shandaken, Kingston, Woodstock and Gardiner. The county suffered some damage at the new infirmary site where a newly installed oil tank was damaged by a heavy washout and the City of Kingston reported some damage to its filter plant.

Arnold noted that hurricane Doria deposited more than six inches of rain locally resulting in the weakening of some culverts and small bridges and the saturation of terrain in late August. On Sept. 11 and 12, several inches more fell resulting in a heavy runoff.

Arnold's survey of the damage initiated the contact with the State Office of Civil Defense and Natural Disaster in Albany. The state director on the basis of the county report requested Governor Rockefeller to initiate a request to President Nixon to include Ulster County in the Doria storm disaster area.

Hudson Strike At Standstill

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—With negotiations at a standstill in the week-old Hudson teachers strike, an attorney for the school board says he will seek an injunction against the 130 striking teachers.

John Donoghue, attorney for the seven-school, 3,000-pupil district, said he would appear in State Supreme Court here Monday to ask that a temporary restraining order—issued when the strike began—be continued as a permanent injunction. The walkout is illegal under the state's Public Employment Regulations Law.

William Gebert, chief negotiator for the Hudson Teachers Association, said Sunday that both sides had met separately with state mediator Harold Newman, but no decision was reached on the resumption of formal negotiations.

The HTA notified the school board Saturday that the teachers were ready to reopen contract talks, which had reached an impasse over the teachers demands for a binding arbitration clause in their contract. Lance Wheeler, a spokesman for the HTA, said Sunday that the school board had not yet responded to the teachers' offer to reopen negotiations.

Nonstriking teachers, and substitutes have been conducting normal classes during the strike.

Nixon Urges Speed In Filling Posts

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon, nearing the end of a weekend respite here, has called on state and local authorities to "move with speed and vigor" to fill 70,000 authorized but vacant public service jobs.

About $1 billion has been available since August to create 100,000 jobs in an effort to ease unemployment. Only about 30,000 have been filled, however.

Nixon, who planned to return to Washington tonight, sent letters to 14,000 state, county and local officials to urge an aggressive approach to the program he signed into law July 2. The Florida White House made

Close Vote Predicted On Special Prayer Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A close vote, with both sides predicting victory, faces the House today on a proposed constitutional amendment designed to specifically permit prayers in public schools.

It will require a two-thirds majority to pass the amendment, which is what makes the issue in doubt. A solid majority for it exists in the House, but it might not be big enough.

Should the amendment pass the House it still would have to get through the Senate by a two-thirds vote and be ratified by the legislatures of 38 states before going into effect.

Major church organizations and the legal community have mounted a strenuous campaign against the amendment, charging it would endanger religious freedom by involving the state in religion.

Supporters of the amendment say it is needed to restore the practice of prayers in the public schools which was widely followed before a 1962 Supreme Court ruling that banned state

Housewife Learns of Love From Death

DENVER (UPI) — Lyn Helton, 20, a housewife who learned about love through death, died Saturday in Children's Hospital of a rare bone cancer that doctors could not cure.

Lyn never wanted to die and she readily admitted it. But she came to grips with the thought of death and finally accepted it. "I think death is sort of beautiful," she once said. "I've learned to love people. I'm not afraid to say, 'Hey, I love you.'"

Lyn was 19 when she first discovered she had osteosarcoma, a disease doctors said was 90 per cent fatal. She first was shocked, then morose. Finally she accepted it and decided to help others in the same situation.

She borrowed a tape recorder from a hospital to record her thoughts about death to "get across how it feels to be dying and raising children at the same time."

Lyn had read "lots of articles about people who have had cancer and lived. But readers get a false impression from this. I've never read an article by someone who is dying."

"I think if I'd seen something like that, it would have helped me get through a lot of emotional pain."

She did her work quietly and without publicity until a thief stole the recorder. Then her story became nationally known and scores of persons offered new tape recorders to replace the one that was stolen.

"It's sort of an autobiography to get across how it feels to be dying and raising children at the same time," she once said of her book.

"Maybe the readers will try to read something into what I've said and learned, and they can make something of it themselves if they're faced with the same situation."

While working on her book,

The Way to Win...

By MIKE ROTHENBERGER

A little more than a century ago a boy was born in Italy who was destined to effect the lives of many thousands of people throughout the world. He was but a small lad when he became a student of the cello and before he had reached the age of 10 he demonstrated his uncanny ability to memorize music by the entire score. In his seventeenth year he began playing in concerts and at 19 he became chief cellist for a touring opera company. They toured to South America and on the second night of the season, in Rio de Janeiro, the Brazilian conductor got in a quarrel with the vocalists. He became so angry that he refused, at the last minute, to go on with the performance. First the associate conductor was called to the podium but he was hissed down by the angry audience. Next the chorus master made an attempt but the audience would have no part of him. It was a desperate situation. The house was filled with indignant people who demanded a first-rate performance. There was only one thing left to do and that was to call the skinny little cellist from the pit because he knew the entire score from memory.

The audience sat nervously, ready to boo him down. They watched intently as he calmly stepped to the podium. He gracefully raised the baton and the performance began. By the end of Act One the audience was cheering wildly because of his skillful performance. From that day on Arturo Toscanini rose rapidly to a life of fame and fortune. A few years later he was called by many, the greatest of all conductors. He became a legend in the halls of musical fame. Of course Toscanini had outstanding ability, but he had something else that was equally important to his great success and that was his willingness to prepare himself in advance so he would be ready for his opportunity when it came.

Regardless of his natural ability, his career would probably have been far less glamorous had he not spent untold hours in self-preparation by memorizing the musical score well in advance of that moment when opportunity was to knock at his door. Suppose that, just like the other musicians with whom he worked, he had gone on day after day playing his own part with no thought of the performance as a whole. The chances are that he would have remained in obscurity and the world would never have known of his great talent. It was Samuel Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives for so many years, who said, "Readiness for opportunity makes for success. Opportunity often comes by accident but readiness never does."

We cannot wait until opportunity knocks before we begin to prepare ourselves for the things we want most in life because opportunity will not wait. If we are not ready when it comes it will quickly move on to someone who is. But there is something each of us can do about it, we can begin our preparation now. This very day, to be sure that we will be ready when greater opportunity does come our way.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A truck driver for the New York Times was killed and another employee was wounded late Sunday night during an argument with a passerby at the front of the newspaper's plant adjacent to Times Square. A crowd of angry people chased the gunman across the heart of the Broadway entertainment center, and through a subway station. Two policemen arrested the suspect at gunpoint a few minutes after the shooting. The alleged gunman was handcuffed and taken back to the scene of the shooting at the Times Building. The crowd set upon the suspect again, "and came pretty close to getting him," said patrolman Leslie Harvey. "We almost had a full-scale riot."

Deliveries of the newspaper were halted after midnight as craft union employees walked off their jobs to discuss security conditions, a spokesman for the Times said. The driver killed was identified as William O'Connor, of Fanwood, N.J. The other victim, James Moffatt of Scotch Plains, N.J., was taken to St. Clare's Hospital in critical condition. The suspect was identified as Carmen Smith, 35, of the Bronx. The police said he was carrying a loaded .25-caliber automatic pistol when arrested. The circumstances surrounding the argument between Smith and O'Connor were unclear, the police said. There was one report that O'Connor, backing his truck into a loading dock at the printing plant, nearly struck Smith.

Nine Refused Welfare In Ulster

Nine Ulster County welfare recipients were denied benefits in September because they failed to report to state employment offices and accept jobs, job referrals or training and four new welfare applicants were also denied payment for the same reason, according to Harold Larsen, supervisor for public assistance, Ulster County Department of Social Services. Twenty-two welfare cases have been closed, he said, because welfare recipients became full employed. On the state level for the same month, 4,269 recipients were denied benefits on the same grounds. Of the 1.7 million persons on welfare in the state, 55,598 were referred to state employment offices during the month. Jobs were found for 3,323, according to Commissioner George K. Wyman who explained that 1,418 persons had valid reason for not reporting and 3,159 were found to be unemployable.

- Cash so you won't have to borrow.

No age limit • No health questions • No salesman will call

We have a great family insurance policy for you. It pays at the rate of $600 a month for adults ($360 a month for covered children) for as long as they stay in the hospital.

If you're 65 or over, you're paid $420 a month in benefits, but only for your first three months in the hospital. From then on, you collect full benefits of $600 a month.

No Charge to Start Your Protection

To attract as many new policyholders as possible, we offer you coverage without charge while you're inspecting your policy. The National Home policy has very few ifs, ands or buts. You can understand it in just a few minutes. There's a 50-50 chance that someone in your family will go to the hospital this year. If it happens to you, you'll find our benefits a godsend.

Tax-Free Cash Paid Directly to You

The money is tax-free, which makes $600 worth from $702 up to $899 in monthly income (not counting New York City taxes), and even more if you're in a high tax bracket. And it is paid directly to you—not to any doctor or hospital. If you have bills to pay, you decide who gets paid first. If you're free and clear, you can put the money in the bank.

Regular Hospitalization Insurance Isn't Enough

Do you have group insurance where you work? A Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan? A Blue Shield Medical Plan? Major Medical? Or are you on Medicare? You'll find, when you go to the hospital, that most policies like these don't pay all of your bills.

Take Medicare. Today there is a $60 Hospital deductible and a $50 Medical deductible. Then there is 80-20 co-insurance on the Medical portion (they pay 80% of the bill and you pay 20%). Finally, there are maximum allowances for each type of medical service. If a doctor charges more than the allowance—as many do—you have to pay the difference.

So if you run up a $1,000 medical-hospital bill, you'll probably have to pay some $200 yourself. Quite possibly more.

This National Home Policy Never Runs Out

Most people don't discover the limitations of their insurance until they go to the hospital. Then it's too late.

For example, do you know that most group policies have a dollar limit on what they pay? That many run out in six months? Do you realize, in other words, that a long illness might put your family on welfare?

Our policy never runs out. If you have to spend the rest of your life in the hospital, we pay you for the rest of your life. At full benefits.

The tables on the right explain exactly what you get, what you don't get, and what you pay.

Get Started Now

Most important, though, is that it costs nothing to start your coverage for you and your entire family. You have plenty of time to study our policy and see how it helps fill the gaps in the insurance you already have.

If you like your policy, you can keep it in force for as little as $4.90 a month. Otherwise, pay nothing, and we'll forget the matter.

If you keep the policy, your cash benefits—at the rate of $600 a month—are protecting you from the effective date shown in your policy schedule.

Here's what we pay

(over and above Medicare and all other insurance)

If you're under 65

$600 a month when you go to the hospital, starting from the very 1st day of confinement. Payments continue as long as you are hospitalized—for life if necessary.

—PLUS—

$360 a month cash when a covered child (18 and under) goes to the hospital. Payments continue as long as the child is in the hospital.

All your premiums after you, the policyholder, have been confined by a covered hospitalization for 8 weeks in a row. We pay the premiums for your entire family plus your monthly benefits until you leave the hospital. We pay them for life if necessary.

If you're 65 or older

$420 a month cash when you go to the hospital, starting from the very 1st day of confinement. Payments continue for three months, then become...

$600 a month cash for as long as you're hospitalized—for life if need be.

—PLUS—

$360 a month cash when a covered child (18 and under) goes to the hospital—the same benefit as for policyholders under 65.

Here's what we don't pay

This policy does not cover confinements in U.S. Government hospitals, nursing or convalescent facilities, or hospitalizations due to:

1. War or Act of War.
2. Mental disorder.
3. Pregnancy.

4. Pre-existing conditions you had before the policy effective date if that condition causing the confinement was manifested within 2 years prior to the effective date of the policy (during the first 2 years only). Meanwhile every new condition is covered.

Here's what you pay

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium* Per Adult
16-44	$4.90
45-49	5.60
50-54	6.30
55-74	7.00
75-79	8.50
80-84	9.90
85-89	10.60
90 and over	11.40

Add $2.70* per month to cover all unmarried children under 19. Newborn and adopted children are covered automatically at 1 month at no extra charge.

*All Premiums lower if paid in advance quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

NOTE: These rates will not go up as you get older. They will not go up if you make frequent claims or large claims. Nor can the company cancel your policy for these or any other reasons. Only a statewide adjustment (up or down) of all policies like yours can ever change your rate. And no one can cancel this policy but you.

No catch to these low rates

When you see premiums this low, you'd suspect that the policy is full of clauses that make payouts few and far between. This is not the case.

Look high and low through the provisions set forth in this ad. Let your lawyer or insurance agent help. You'll find no unusual exclusions.

Indeed, we feel that this plan's payout provisions are among the most liberal available. For example:

- We pay benefits on Workmen's Compensation cases. Many policies don't.
- We pay benefits for life if necessary. Many policies have a 1-year or 2-year limit.
- We continue your insurance regardless of age. Some policies cancel you after a certain age.

• We excuse you from paying premiums when you are hospitalized longer than 8 weeks in a row. Most policies don't.

How then are these low rates possible?

We sell insurance by mail. And administer it by mail. And have cut the cost of contacting you down to postage stamp size.

The special plans offered by the National Liberty Corporation group of companies are today helping policyowners in all 50 states and many foreign countries as well.

Your neighborhood letter carrier makes it all possible. He delivers more insurance for your money. And you don't even pay him a commission.

"I think National Home's $600.00-a-month plan is just about the best additional financial protection you can give your family. That's why I'm happy to give this plan my wholehearted endorsement. I've made a point of getting to know some of the folks at National Home. And you won't find more decent, friendly people to deal with. Believe me, when you need them, they'll be there to help you. That's why I cannot imagine anyone passing up the chance to enroll in this health plan."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 8, 1971

WASHINGTON — Behind the diplomatic drama of the United Nations, Soviet KGB men and American FBI agents engage in a silent game of espionage and intrigue.

They keep one another under surveillance, compile dossiers on each other and lurk in the shadows with hidden cameras and tape recorders. The KGB agents and both sides recruit Secretariat informants.

All this, of course, violates UN rules outrageously. Ugly pressure is brought on the informants, for example, to violate their UN oath that they will not "accept instructions in regard to the performance of my duties from any government or other authority external to the organization."

We have documented the case of a South American, seeking U.S. citizenship, who was assigned to work in the Secretariat under a high-ranking Russian. Not long after he applied for citizenship, the South American received a confidential telephone call from the FBI. He was asked to stop by an FBI office where he was pressed to furnish information about his Soviet superior.

The FBI agent was polite and made no mention of the pending citizenship application. But the dismayed South American feared his application would be rejected if he didn't cooperate.

He was "stupefied" by the information that the FBI had already gathered about the Russian. But the FBI wanted the prospective citizen to report on the Russian's daily schedule, to sneak glimpses into his appointments book, to listen for any unusual telephone calls, to make a note of all but routine visitors, to monitor the letters he wrote, to keep track of his travels and, significantly, to note any personal quirks or romantic inclinations.

The unhappy South American, whose identity we have agreed to withhold, didn't want to spy for the FBI in violation of his UN oath. But he also didn't want to jeopardize his chance of becoming a U.S. citizen. He put the FBI off, at first, by reporting that the Russian was secretive about his activities. Then the Latin got a new position far enough removed from any Russians that the FBI let him off the hook.

Main Espionage Center

Of course, the FBI had good reason to be suspicious of the Russian. KGB agents have thoroughly infiltrated the Secretariat. They have used their UN cover to seek U.S. secrets, to promote anti-American activities and to compile dossiers on UN personnel. One Soviet UN employee was found to have thousands of dollars worth of sophisticated camera equipment in his apartment.

Indeed, the UN is the main Soviet espionage center in this country. The FBI and the State Department are at odds, however, over how to handle Soviet spies. Over the past decade, the U.S. has expelled only 11 Soviet UN employees. But the FBI has accumulated enough evidence to justify ousting several others.

The State Department feels that their back-alley activities aren't harmful enough to risk upsetting Soviet-American relations and that the expelled diplomats would merely be replaced by other spies anyway. The Kremlin would also retaliate by expelling American diplomats from Moscow where it's more difficult to arrange replacements.

Usually, the State Department has prevailed. But the FBI occasionally takes matters into its own hands.

This happened only a few weeks ago. The FBI had evidence that Vladimir Paulichenko, a top UN public relations official, was a key KGB agent. This information was quietly leaked to the New York Times just as his five-year UN contract came up for renewal. Since the State Department didn't expel him, the FBI hoped the publicity would force Russia to pull him out.

This is how the game is sometimes played behind the scenes at the United Nations.

HEADLINES — FOOTNOTES

Murder Threat — The FBI has warned Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., that a professional assassin may be gunning for him. FBI aide Dave Bowers telephoned the Congressman's office to report that "a reliable FBI source" had tipped off their San Antonio office that a possible contract "to kill Gonzalez had been issued in Houston. The motive, presumably, is to stop Gonzalez's clamor for a full investigation of the Texas stock scandals. It isn't the first time the Congressman's life has been threatened. The same Bowers called with a similar warning on April 16, 1969. He reported that an ex-convict named Esteban Romero had sworn to kill Gonzalez. Romero was quickly tracked down to a San Antonio bar and was arrested for being drunk.

SURPRISE DEFOLIATION

— Autumn came early at Langley Air Force Base, Va., this year when the trees on the post began turning brown in mid-July. At first the perplexed brass thought they may have used a herbicide in place of insecticide to control an infestation of insects. The lovely base in Tidewater, Va., they feared, would soon be as bare as a Vietnam forest. But base officials now think they were slipped a defective pesticide which adversely affected the trees. The only other plausible explanation, they say, is that some of the herbicide used to control grass around the runways somehow found its way into the root systems of the trees.

Trade Protection

WASHINGTON — When the Senate Finance Committee on Thursday voted to give President Nixon authority to raise the surcharge on foreign imports from a rate of 10 per cent to 15 per cent, there was more involved than a mere change in the levies to be imposed on transactions in trade. For it will give the dollar a great deal more power in the currency markets abroad and enable our government to negotiate more effectively with some of the far eastern countries, where the 10 per cent surcharge has not been adequate.

Actually, the United States has had a deficit of 9.8 billion dollars in its international payments in 1970. For 1971, the deficit was running at the rate of 16 billion dollars a year before President Nixon took the dollar off the gold standard on August 16 and imposed the import surcharge. So this is an important weapon with which to deal with the balance of trade and imports into this country.

Coincidentally, the common market nations in Europe have reaffirmed their determination not to modify the value of their currencies unless the dollar is devalued.

Their intention is to ask representatives of our government at a meeting in Rome on November 22 whether it plans an international negotiation which would include a change in western-currency parities.

The United States does not want to devalue its currency in terms of gold at this time, and the 15 per cent surcharge will be a handy tool in handling relations with other countries on trade problems. Lots of foreign-made goods are coming into the United States to compete with American products, forcing workers out of jobs. As a consequence, there was a widespread demand for the imposition of the 10 per cent surcharge. But apparently it was felt this might not be adequate, and Congress has been under pressure to permit it to rise to 15 per cent, which it is hoped will be sufficient to prevent the influx of imports.

The United States has been trying to get bilateral agreements with various countries to control imports under a quota system. But it hasn't been wholly successful. The surcharge was adopted as a last resort. While it has caused some resentment, it is a move that was unavoidable and one the United States had to take in view of the unwillingness of foreign governments to accept any real limitation of exports to this country.

Today, representatives of the United States, led by Secretary of the Treasury John Connally, are to begin talks in Tokyo with Japanese leaders to seek their cooperation in a program to check the deficit in America's international balance of payments.

Japanese officials have been under pressure from their own people to make few concessions. In fact, the whole problem could have been solved three years ago if there had been more of an inclination to negotiate an adjustment. The imposition of the surcharge at 10 per cent, which now may rise to 15 per cent, appeared to be the only way out of the difficulty for the United States.

The news that the 10 per cent surcharge may be increased to 15 per cent probably have a profound effect in Tokyo because it will unquestionably have an impact on imports from Japan. The whole problem is one that both countries recognize as being unavoidable, but something is inevitable, as relations between the two countries have grown very close in recent years.

There are other parts of the world from which imports are coming into the United States that are hurtful. Automobiles made in Europe, for example, have been shipped to the United States and sold at prices lower than those of cars manufactured in this country. Estimates vary as to the number of jobs that have been lost as a result of this competition, but there is no doubt that tens of thousands of workers in America have been adversely affected.

The administration feels that its first duty is to the workers of this country and that it must put restrictions on all products coming in from foreign countries so that the prices will not be lower than domestic goods with which they are competing.

The battle against imports has been going on for several years, but with very little success. The Nixon administration has decided to take strong action. For, while it involves a strain in foreign relations, there apparently is no choice but protectionism.

LBJ and His Book

Lyndon B. Johnson made two big mistakes: One was the Vietnam War, the other, it develops, was writing his book. The Pentagon Papers, unreliable as they are, paint a broad picture of LBJ running on a peace platform in 1964 against Barry Goldwater while at the same time plotting to bomb North Vietnam. His book, while not in so many words, confirms that the man in the White House was indeed riding two horses, one of peace, the other of war.

Consider: The Pentagon Papers said that a "general consensus" had been reached on Sept. 7, 1964, while Mr. Johnson was endeavoring (and quite successfully, it turned out) to make his opponent, Barry Goldwater, as a man of war. That consensus was that the U.S. would have to begin bombing North Vietnam by the start of 1965. LBJ's book puts it this way: His advisors agreed unanimously that the U.S. should be prepared to "retaliate" by bombing North Vietnam if the enemy should press an attack on South Vietnam. There's not much difference in these versions, unless one wants to split hairs.

Mr. Johnson's record in office must rise or fall on the one issue: Vietnam. Whatever else he wrote about in his book is mere window dressing for that point. LBJ, never contrite, certainly shows no inclination in his writings to make any excuses for Vietnam. He even asserts the American people knew what they were voting for in 1964 when they chose him. "They knew Lyndon Johnson wasn't going to pull up stakes and run." They also thought they knew that he wasn't going to run in the direction of a stepped-up war in Indochina. In fact, they were wrong, and the question arises whether Barry Goldwater wasn't made the biggest goat in the history of American Presidential campaigns.

Perhaps the only weak link in the indictment against LBJ's book is that one must turn somewhat to the Pentagon Papers to dispute him. Here was a group of young men who, over and above their admitted bias against the war, carried no proper credentials to the task they were appointed to by then Defense Secretary Robert McNamara. They admitted they allowed their feelings to creep into their writings. But since much of what they wrote was public knowledge at the time anyway, there is no doubt, the papers aside, that LBJ's version of his own war record doesn't jibe with all the facts of that time.

Vietnam still remains his Gethsemane.

Incentive to Study

In a first-of-its-kind "incentive" experiment, funded by an $870,000 bundle from the U.S. Office of Education, parents and teachers of elementary schoolchildren in four cities will be paid hard cash if the kids' entire classes make "significant improvements" in reading and mathematics.

Schools in Oakland, Calif., and San Antonio, Tex., will participate in both a parent and teacher bonus program, while schools in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Jacksonville, Fla., will limit themselves to a teacher bonus plan.

In each school district, two matching schools have been selected, one to serve as an experimental school, the other as a control school working with the same materials but not eligible for any financial reward.

Pupils in all eight schools will be tested to determine average class scores. At the end of the year they will be retested.

Depending upon the amount of progress beyond the average yearly growth expected for a particular grade level in a particular school, parents can be paid anything from $25 to $100 and teachers from $500 to $1,200.

By comparing results with the control schools, the USOE hopes to be able to tell how much extra improvement is made when teachers have a financial stake in the success of their students, and also whether even greater improvement is made when parents have a stake as well.

For much less than $870,000, we can tell them the answer right now. "Significant improvements" are going to be forthcoming in at least two of these schools, or there will be a number of heart-to-heart talks between parents and kids in Oakland and San Antonio next spring.

Food Is Filling But Foolish

Food, except under rare circumstances, is a bore. As far as I am concerned, the edibles were designed to nourish body and stop hunger pains. To some, eating is a joyful adventure. Women coo and exclaim over sauces which do nothing more than disguise the flavor of whatever they cover.

In all neighborhoods, there is a quiet panic trying to find a new restaurant, a new place which serves "better food" at a reasonable price. Actually, man lives off the top eight inches of soil and what it produces is the same few dozen vegetables, the grasses and grains which fatten steers and lambs, pigs and fowl.

The British are the world's worst cooks. Dinner, for them, is a form of penance. Anyone who has smelled a platter of hot mutton basted in its own fat, kidney pie and Yorkshire pudding knows that the nation has been gastronomically sick for centuries.

The French are devotees of disguise. They can take a slice of bacon and make it look like De Gaulle passing under the Arc de Triomphe. It's still bacon. They pride themselves on being better cooks because they found out that wine poured on a sliver of veal makes it taste like anything but what it is — veal. The peasants, rather than the gastronomes, made the only true discovery — onion soup with croutons.

And yet I have enjoyed food at times. I gauge the spectrum of enjoyment by the amount of discussing I do afterward. The Pump Room in Chicago used to have a chicken pot pie which, through some miscalculation in the kitchen, was full of good chicken. In New York, the Oak Room at the Plaza has a cheese omelette which, when depressed by a fork, causes hot cheddar cheese to fly out.

In Golden Beach, Florida, Jimmy Di Nicola has a half-hidden restaurant called The Gristmill where all the food is practically homemade and the ice cream is churned on the premises. At the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco, the food is good but the service is so superb and the stringed ensemble so romantic that, as far as I'm concerned, the waiters could serve empty plates.

Joe Sonken serves Italian food as a good as any I found in Rome, and he's Jewish. The Doldier Grand in Zurich covers everything with a monumental mountain of whipped cream, in case you forget that you're near the Alps. Casa Santino, north of Miami, makes dinner a special three-hour treat where exotic dishes are pampered and loved before the customers arrive.

My wife is a good cook. I mean that. She enjoys cooking, something which I regard as only slightly less abominable than trying seaweed in squid. She tries hard to tempt me and I try just as hard to resist. I now have a potbelly which modestly covers my thighs.

To eat good food in the South you have to go to someone's home. Most of the places I try on the road know as much about cooking as I do about astrophysics. Any joint that has the temerity to stick a steak in a frying pan full of bacon fat can't be all bad. And grits. Unless you have been brought up on that stuff, it's like chomping on beach sand.

I used to think my mother was a great cook until I was 20, when somebody asked me to eat at a restaurant. At that point, I saw those bouncy meatballs for what they really were — retreads. When we complained that she burned the dinner, she drew herself augustly up to her full five feet and snapped: "Not burned. It's just touched a little."

We were touched. More than a little. Me, I'm a plain meat and potatoes guy. In Tokyo, I was impressed with all the delicate sauces and foods until I learned that what I had just finished was raw fish.

My father was the last man I met who not only loved food with a passion but who could converse about the beauty of it for an hour afterward. So what happened? He developed an ulcer the size of a silver dollar. He and his ulcer used to have a reverie conference on "The Mood of the Day."

One night I took him to Sonken's and, en route, he said: "I think I'll start with clams casino, followed by an oil and vinegar salad. Then a side dish of spaghetti al dente with a soupcon of tomato sauce, some hot Italian bread and a veal scallopini." He didn't know it, but his ulcer was listening.

By the time we got to the restaurant, he had a face like a lady finger. He ordered a bowl of corn flakes. The waiter said: "Sorry, we don't have corn flakes." "Then," my old man snarled, "go down to the corner and buy some." The waiter did. "Will you have anything to go with it?" he asked. "Yes," my father said, "get me a double shot of rye."

That was din-din. Think I'll go to bed with a slice of lemon cake and a bag of peppermints. . .

Attendants were Anna May Rader, sister of the bride, and Beth Lanier, sister of the bridegroom. They wore lavender and turquoise gowns, respectively, and carried bouquets similar to that of the honor attendant's.

Dave Schwartz of Rifton was best man. Ushers were Richard Fox, brother of the bride, and Robert Lanier, uncle of the bridegroom.

A reception for 100 guests was given at Elmer's Inn, Ruby.

The wedding took place Saturday, Oct. 30 at St. Joseph's Church, Kingston, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly officiating at the double ring ceremony.

James Sweeney, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Gold vases of white gladioli, white chrysanthemums and white pompons decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of pale ivory peau de soie fashioned with an empire bodice of Venice lace, and featuring long full sleeves cuffed at the wrists with matching lace. She wore a chapel length mantilla and carried a bridal cascade of Stephanotis and English ivy.

Miss Linda Saccaman, cousin of the bride, Kingston, was maid of honor in a gown fashioned with a lilac bodice of georgette chiffon over culotte-styled skirt of multicolor chiffon. She wore a purple velvet ribbon in her hair and carried a colonial nosegay of lavender pompons accented with deep purple ribbons.

Charles Meyer of Boston, Mass., was best man. Ushers were Richard Ivy, Ridgefield Park, N. J., and David Smith Petersen, Millis, Mass.

A reception for 120 guests was given at The Hedges in West Park.

For her wedding trip through New England, the bride chose a camel-colored pantsuit with brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, and Albany Business College, class of 1965, was employed by IBM Kingston Employees Federal Credit Union.

Her husband, a graduate of American School in Guatemala City, Guatemala, and Bromfield High School in Harvard, Mass., attended Brown University and University of Virginia. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and received his Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering from Boston University. He served in the U. S. ## Bernadette Travis Weds C. L. Salata Jr.

St. Peter's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Bernadette Frances Travis and Cornelius Louis Salata Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Travis, Hardenburg Road, Ulster Park, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius L. Salata, Eddyville.

The double ring ceremony took place on Saturday, Sept. 4 with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James A. Reynolds of the Holy Name of Jesus Church, officiating. Miss Nan Goldrick organist, accompanied Miss Rita Mary Senor who sang wedding selections.

The altar was decorated with baskets of yellow and white gladioli and chrysanthemums. White satin bows marked the family pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected a white satin gown trimmed with lace around the neck and train. The gown was made by the bride and Mrs. George Villiel. A small hat covered with satin held her tulle full length veil and she carried an arm bouquet of white bridal roses and baby's breath.

Janet Karkowski of St. Remy, served as maid of honor in a gown of sea green satin, fashioned with long sleeves and trimmed with sequins. The gown was made by the honor attendant's mother. A sea green hat served as her headpiece and she carried a fireside basket of yellow daisies and baby's breath.

Attendants were Michele Ann Travis, sister of the bride; Debra Harris, both of Ulster Park; Linda Saccaman, Kingston; and Arlene Campbell, Tillson. Their lemon yellow gowns and hats were styled identically to the honor attendant's. They carried fireside baskets of yellow and white daisies and baby's breath. Their gowns were made by Mrs. Peter Karkowski, Mrs. Jack Travis and Mrs. Joseph Campbell.

Miss Kathy Vertullo served as flower girl. She was attired in a sea green gown and hat, similar in styling to the other attendants' and carried a small fireside basket of yellow daisies and baby's breath. Her gown was made by Susan Eckert.

Edward Brown of Fairlawn, N.J. served as best man. Ushers were Frederick J. Travis, brother of the bride, Ulster Park; Jack Reynolds, St. Remy; Edward Kerwin, and Patrick Purvis, both of Eddyville. Gregory Bronsonski, nephew and godchild of the bridegroom, Fairlawn, N.J., was ringbearer.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Chef Jo-Mar's Restaurant. The owner, Pomonic Vertullo, is the grandfather of the flower girl.

The bride selected an orange printed jersey ensemble for her wedding trip through the southern states. She also wore a yellow daisy corsage.

Mrs. Salata was graduated from St. Peter's School, Kingston, and John A. Coleman Catholic High School, Hurley. She attended Ulster County Community College. The bride took a correspondence course for two years with Minnesota Art School. She is a descendant of U.S. Grant on the Travis side of the family. On the bride's mother's side, she is the granddaughter of Rudolf G. Segsneider and great granddaughter of Gustave R. Segsneider, inventors of the Hat Machine and founders of Segsneider Hat Machine Inc., Yonkers.

The former Miss Travis was employed by Roberto's Restaurant, Port Ewen, and is now employed at a hotel at World of Disney, Florida.

Her husband is an alumnus of memorial Junior High School of New Jersey and Kingston High School. He was employed by Sears and Roebuck of Kingston and is now working at World of Disney for G.A.F. camera, Orlando, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Salata will make their home in Orlando, Florida.

Sleepwalking Husband Poses a Problem

DEAR ABBY: My husband insists upon sleeping in the raw. I personally have no objection to this, but he is also a sleepwalker. We have four children, including a teen-aged daughter, and George has been known to roam all over the house in his sleep. He has also walked outside on both front porch and back in this unclothed state.

When I notice that George is gone from our bed, I go and find him and gently lead him back. Is there some way I can talk him into wearing pajamas to bed? He says they aren't "comfortable." But under the circumstances I think he should try to get used to them, don't you?

GEORGE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Yes. If you can't talk George into pajamas, compromise, and try to talk him into the bottoms. (But settle for shorts.)

DEAR ABBY: Our 19-year-old son has been dating a girl for four months. She is six months pregnant by someone else. She has told our son who the father is, and he is married.

In spite of her pregnancy, her parents allow her to date. We have talked to our son about what kind of girl she must be, told him he is ruining his reputation in this small town, but he says he doesn't care and will continue to see her.

We are a middle-class, respectable family, fairly religious. We've tried to raise our children right.

He lives at home, goes to college, and has a part-time job. We are paying for his education and clothes and he spends the money he earns as she pleases.

How can we get thru to him?

GENERATION GAP
DEAR GAP: If his reputation suffers because of his actions, it's his reputation. You refer to the "kind" of girl she is. All kinds of girls have found themselves in that predicament. (She may be a wonderful girl.) Why don't you get to know her? That would be the first step in closing the generation gap.

DEAR ABBY: I've been wanting to write to you for years, but being quite happily married and with no major problems with my four kids, I haven't had to until now.

You goofed! You told a woman whose son accidentally broke her neighbor's window she should have had the window repaired and paid for it.

Abby, almost everyone who owns a home and resides in it has "homeowner's insurance," which means, if a member of one's household accidentally causes damage to someone else's property, the damage is paid for by the insurance company.

Example: My son knocks a ball thru someone's window. I hit a golfball into a passing automobile. While hunting, I accidentally shoot a farmer's cow. While shopping, my wife knocks a lamp off the shelf in a store. Also, if a child under 12 damages someone's property on purpose (kids sometimes do this), this insurance policy covers it.

You should have told that woman to report the broken window to her insurance company. If it turns out she doesn't have a homeowner's policy, then she can start paying.

And by the way, don't ever advise anyone to pay and then notify the insurance company. Insurance companies, because of their volume, can get work done cheaper than individuals can. Sign me THE "GOOD HANDS" MAN IN FLORIDA

DEAR MAN: Thank you for a very informative letter. We can all learn. Even Abby.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANYONE WHO MIGHT KNOW: In Highgate Cemetery, London, is an almost life-size granite grand piano marking a grave. The inscription reads, "To the memory of my beloved husband, Harry Thornton, age 35, a genius who died October 19, 1918." If you have ever heard of this man, I would like to hear from you.

Opera, Ballet, Symphony Films Here

Community Theatre in Kingston has scheduled a festival of opera, ballet and symphony films which will start today and continue Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Salzburg Festival production of "Carmen," the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra with Herbert von Karajan and the American Ballet Theatre's production of "Giselle" are among the productions to be presented by the Community Theatre in a "Continuing Festival of Opera, Ballet and Symphony." During the course of the "Festival" many of the world's most famous artists and companies will be featured in full length color filmed performances of many of the greatest and most popular concert classics.

The festival is unique in that a different work will be offered each night beginning this evening with "Giselle" at 8 o'clock. "Carmen" and "Romeo and Juliet" will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively, with two performances scheduled for each day at 2 and 8 p.m. Regular movie admission prices will be charged and there will be no reserved seats.

The opera, symphony and ballet films were completed recently in Europe. They are in full color and magnificent sound. The very latest filming techniques were used and in most cases the actual production of the company was moved on to a movie lot so that the "shooting" could take place under the optimum conditions.

Roberta Peters, leading soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, serves as hostess for the "Festival." Printed programs are given free to the audience so that they might read the story of the evening's events.

A special student performance of excerpts of "Giselle," "I Pagliacci" and the "Bethoven Symphony No. 6" is presented also as part of the series. This one-hour children's film features Roberta Peters as hostess and storyteller and is a wonderful introduction into opera, ballet and symphony for children.

The special student shows will be given each day at 10:15 a.m.

Howfield's Answer Was Blowing in the Wind

TOE HOLD—Jim Lynch, linebacker for the Kansas City Chiefs, grabs hold of a foot belonging to John Riggins of the Jets and brings him down with the shoestring tackle during their game in New York Sunday. ## Indians Ambushed On Pro Gridirons

(By UPI) It was a bad day for Indians defense. The Washington Redskins and the Kansas City Chiefs, the first five games this season, National Football League's have become a different team "Indians" clubs, expected easy since new coach Ed Khayat games Sunday as they took on ordered clean shaves and close a couple of the weaker teams haircuts to establish discipline, in the league. Both came away quite surprised.

The surging Philadelphia Eagles took advantage of four interceptions and three fumble recoveries to hold the once-beaten Redskins to a 7-7 tie and Philadelphia took a 7-0 lead the injury-ravaged New York on a 12-yard TD pass from Pete

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Howfield has kicked field goals with the wind at his back and with the wind blowing into his face. It's when the wind is blowing both at his back and in his face at the same time that life becomes difficult.

Howfield kicked a 39-yard field goal in the fourth quarter Sunday with a gusty wind blowing every which way and it gave the New York Jets a stunning 13-10 National Football League victory over the Kansas City Chiefs.

"It's a cross wind here," said Howfield, whose soccer style kick decided the game. "It kind of swirls every which way. I just tried to compensate for it as best I could."

Ironically, Howfield connected from the exact spot that Kansas City's Jan Stenerud missed from in the third period.

"I didn't watch him," said Howfield. "I don't watch the other guys. I concentrate on my own work."

Stenerud was the guy who squeezed Howfield out of the Kansas City kicking picture a couple of years ago. Chiefs Coach Hank Stram had found Howfield on a talent hunt in England and brought him to the United States to play pro football. But the Chiefs already had Stenerud kicking.

"There's no way you can keep two kicking specialists," said the squat Stram, so we dealt him to Denver. I always thought he was a great kicker, though."

The Jets got Howfield in an even-up swap for placekicker Jim Turner last spring. He had made only one of six field goal attempts before Sunday, but he was 2-for-2 against the Chiefs.

"It was a tough day work," said KC quarterback Len Dawson. You couldn't lob

Giant Rookies Come a Long Way

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don't confuse and lose confidence in tell Charlie Evans and Coleman himself. Webster explained, place of injured Tucker Fredericks. "There's a lot of feel to our rickson—who may have lost his system and they're both still learning it."

Evans and Zeno played out their collegiate careers in obscurity—Evans was a blocking back at Southern California and Zeno was a second string flanker at Grambling—but they have the makings of future stars for the New York Giants.

Evans was picked in the 14th round and Zeno in the 17th in last year's draft and both started the year on the taxi squad but they played significant roles along with Fran Tarkenton and Ron Johnson Sunday as the Giants ambushed the San Diego Chargers 35-17.

Evans, playing in his fourth game, carried 17 times for 63 yards and plunged over for three touchdowns while Zeno playing in his first pro game, caught four key passes for 90 yards and had a touchdown catch nullified by a penalty.

Tarkenton was also brilliant as he connected on 16 of 20 passes for 270 yards while Johnson, playing for the second straight game this year after being injured, ran for 67 yards in 12 carries. But the rookies stole the show.

The rookies looked so good that coach Alex Webster was busy explaining why the Giants, who snapped a four-game losing streak, didn't use them earlier in the year.

"Sometimes you don't want to throw a kid in there too early because he might get

RON SCORES—Ron Johnson (30) of the New York Giants breaks away from three San Diego Charger tacklers to go over for a touchdown in the first quarter of Sunday's game in Yankee Stadium. Identifiable among the Chargers is Jim Tolbert (43). The Giants won, 35-17, thus snapping a four-game losing streak. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Evans started at fullback in place of Don Herrmann, who last six and finish 9-5. Johnson has a bad shoulder. "I always thought I could do without Johnson," Zeno said. "I just wanted the chance. Even for San Diego, which had won though I was a 17th round two straight."

choice, I thought I could make "We just didn't play well," the club. I was disappointed linebaker Bob Babich said. "It when they put me on the taxi was a very poor performance squad at the start of the year but then it's always poor when but I kept working, and finally you give up 35 points."

Quarterback John Hadl, who Zeno's big catch was a 53-yard grab to the Charger three yard grab to the Charger three late in the third period when on only 16 of 31 for 194 yards, San Diego had narrowed a 21-0 said, "we lost the game in the deficit to 21-17 and seemed to first half. We let them get be taking control of the game, three touchdowns ahead."

Evans scored two plays later San Diego took the opening and the Giants had it wrapped kickoff and marched to the up. Evans then scored an insurance TD with 55 seconds left to make it a rout.

The Giants got a scare when Johnson suffered a sprained knee early in the final period before I threw the ball." Hadl but the club doesn't think it's serious, "but I saw him once I let serious. "We can still win the it go."

They Expect Chris to Win

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI)—Chris Evert, the 16-year-old Cinderella of American tennis, is finding life with the glass slipper a lot different.

"People expect me to win now, and it's not that easy," Miss Evert said after two nights of exhibitions against Laura Dupont of Charlotte.

Blonde and still petite, even though she's added an inch and five pounds in the past year, she easily displayed the form that carried her to the semifinals in the U. S. Open Championship.

Miss Evert defeated Miss Dupont 6-0, 6-2 in Greensboro Friday night and 6-3, 6-2 here Saturday night in matches prior to Carolina Cougar games.

"I try not to think about winning a major championship in the near future," she said. "It's something you like to feel you've worked for, and should I win one before I grow up, I'll have to live with the pressure of being expected to keep winning."

Ashe Rallies
STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—Arthur Ashe of Gum Springs, Va., seeded ninth in the $50,000 Stockholm Tennis Open, rallied from a 1-4 deficit in the final set to win the title by a 6-1, 3-6, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4 score over Jan Kodess of Czechoslovakia.

Ashe earned $10,000 for the victory and Kodess received a $5,000 check as runner-up in the tournament.

Horse of the Year
LONDON (UPI)—American-owned Mill Reef was named 1971 Horse of the Year Sunday by the British Racecourse Association.

Paul Mellon's Mill Reef lost only one race this year as he won the Greenham Stakes, the Derby, the Eklipse, the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes and the Prix de l'arc de Triomphe.

Stars Dim Flyers, 3-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the New York Rangers are leading the National Hockey League's East Division, a couple of ex-Rangers are helping the Minnesota North Stars stay atop the West Division.

Gump Worsley, the chubby 42-year-old goalie, stopped 27 Philadelphia shots and 39-year-old Dean Prentice set up two goals Sunday Night as the North Stars blanked the Flyers 3-0, raising their record to 10-2-2.

The victory kept Minnesota tied with Chicago for the West lead. The Black Hawks kept pace, beating the Pittsburgh Penguins 4-1.

In other NHL games, Montreal edged Boston 3-2, Detroit and Buffalo tied 3-3, and California routed Toronto 8-1.

Prentice, who formerly played on the same Ranger teams with Worsley, assisted on Murray Oliver's first-period goal and Lou Nanne's second-period tally. Danny Grant scored the other Minnesota goal, in the third period.

The Black Hawks, 11-4, did all scoring their scoring against Pittsburgh in the second period as Stan Mikita, Danny O'Shea, Jim Pappin and Bobby Hull beat Roy Edwards. Val Fonteyne's first goal of the season, midway through the final period, prevented the Penguins from being blanked.

Marc Tardif's pair of first-period goals and Frank Mahovlich's 15th of the season—tops in the league—carried Montreal's defending Stanley Cup champions past Boston. The triumph gave the Canadiens a 9-2-2 record for 20 points, two behind the idle Rangers in the East.

Defenseman Doug Barrie's goal with 3:17 remaining pulled Buffalo into its tie with Detroit. Sabres' goalie Roger Crozier played brilliantly, stopping 40 Red Wings shots. Tim Eccles-tone had a goal and an assist for Detroit.

Eight players scored for California in the Golden Seals' romp over Toronto that lifted them into third place in the West. Dave Keon's goal with less than four minutes remaining spoiled the shutout bid of California rookie goalie Gilles Meloche.

In Saturday night's NHL action, it was: Boston 2, Detroit 1; New York 3, Vancouver 1; Montreal 2, Chicago 1; Minnesota 5, St. Louis 1; and Toronto 3, Los Angeles 2.

Ulster has drawn Mitchell Junior College of Waterbury as its first round opponent.

Making up the 1971 field are Ulster, Mitchell, Staten Island, 4th ranked nationally; Farmingdale, Westchester, Queens borough, Nassau and Orange County.

First round pairings: Ulster vs. Mitchell at Post Junior, Waterbury. Staten Island vs. Farmingdale at Westchester.

Nassau vs. Orange at Suffolk. Westchester vs. Queensborough at Nassau.

The selections committee seeded Ulster No. 6, ahead of Orange and Farmingdale. Staten Island was seeded first, followed by Nassau, Mitchell, Westchester, Queensborough, Ulster, Orange and Farmingdale.

Mitchell drubbed the Senators 6-0 in the opening game of the season, but Coach Vizvary thinks the outcome might be different this time around.

"They had eight seniors against eight freshmen on our side," the UCCC coach explained. "But, I think we've learned the game since then."

The team is up and it will be a real pleasure to get a second shot at them."

The Ulster team is physically sound, including Carl McDonald, who was shaken up in the heart-breaking 3-2 loss to national power Staten Island.

"We're in great condition physically," said Vizvary, "and there'll be no excuses if we lose this time."

If Ulster gets by Mitchell, it will meet the winner of the of them."

Never underestimate Billy Costello's skill with a cuestick when the pressure is heavy and the stakes large.

Bill Klindworth came out of Newburgh Sunday night rated one of the two top threats in the Kingston Invitational Pocket Billiard Tournament that got under way with a star-studded field at Bob Chapman's Golden Cue.

When Klindworth departed 125-94, and Art Baron, the 1966 Newburgh champ, topped him, 125-104, by Costello, Harpster, 125-122, in the closest match of the night, Wright ran over Weygant, 125-29, for his first win.

Earlier, Costello had topped home town rival Dave Holly, 125-83, in a match that wasn't as close as the score indicates.

Holly, however, put his game men together in the second round for an easy 125-45 triumph over veteran Bob Harpster of Newburgh, off and boosted his lead to 116-105 before the players locked a moment co-favorite from a series of cat-and-mouse Newburgh, displayed the flashy safeties.

The big break came when Art Baron d. Bob Harpster, 125-122. (Second Round)

Holly defeated Harpster, 124-45; Ricky Wright defeated Weygant, 125-29; Herring defeated Beaudette, 125-49; Costello defeated Bill Klindworth, 125-104.

West Is Back, LA Has Him

LOS ANGELES (AP) Jerry West is back and Bill Sharman, the coach of the Los Angeles Lakers, is smiling again.

"I didn't expect West to be as sharp as he has been after missing those five games," said Sharman after the All-Pro guard had led the Lakers to a 103-96 victory over New York Sunday night and a sweep of three weekend games against established National Basketball Association powers.

Sunday's victory moved the Lakers into first place in the NBA's Pacific Division, a half game ahead of the Golden State Warriors, who beat Seattle to drop the SuperSonics one game back.

Saturday night the Lakers reversed an earlier loss to the Warriors by trouncing them 106-89. Friday night they outlasted Baltimore 110-106 in a ragged game.

Wilt Chamberlain, shooting sparingly but rebounding and defending ferociously, earned Sharman's praise with a second-half surge against the Knicks.

"I felt Wilt was the difference tonight," the coach said of the 7-foot-1 center who has been appointed the Lakers' captain with the retirement of Elgin Baylor.

West, who missed two weeks with an ankle sprain, was rusty against the Bullets but regained his touch with 28 points against Golden State and 29 against New York. Gail Goodrich, who leads the Lakers in scoring, chipped in 26 against the Knicks.

Jerry Lucas led New York with 20 points as the Knicks, 6-7, lost their third game in four since center Willis Reed left the lineup with a knee injury.

Reed was examined Sunday by Dr. Robert Kerlan, the Lakers' team physician, who said he concurred with Knicks' doctor Andrew Patterson's diagnosis of tendonitis of the left knee. Reed is expected to work out with the Knicks Tuesday and play in Wednesday night's game at Cincinnati.

The U.S.E.T. has 64 points to 52 for Canada and 28 for Argentina.

The Argentines had not won a class until Jorge Llambi, one of the leading riders in South America, piloted Maxim to victory in the international class in the Sunday afternoon session.

Argentina, with three classy riders and a group of injured horses scored a first and a second in Sunday's competition and suddenly became factors in the race.

Notre Dame Back in Bowl Picture

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those bitter rivals of the last two years, Notre Dame and Texas, are suddenly very much back in the bowl picture—but this time it probably won't be against each other.

Once-beaten Notre Dame rediscovered its missing offense Saturday and enhanced its bowl prospects with a 56-7 mauling of Pitt. Fifteenth-ranked Texas, which captured one national championship and lost another by splitting the last two Cotton Bowl classics with Notre Dame, sneaked back atop the South-west Conference—the SWC provides the host team—by downing Baylor 24-0 while No. 16 Arkansas was being held to a 24-14 tie by Rice.

Bowl bids can be tendered either on Nov. 20 or one Saturday before a team ends its season, whichever comes first, and eighth-ranked Notre Dame closes on Nov. 20, making the Fighting Irish eligible for an invitation next weekend.

The only problem is that both the Orange and Sugar Bowls would like to match the top survivors from the Nebraska-Oklahoma, Alabama-Auburn and Auburn-Georgia games—the respective dates are Nov. 25, Nov. 27 and Nov. 13—for the national championship, with Penn State also a possibility.

Also, there is no earthly reason—other than money—for Notre Dame to return to the Cotton Bowl since every SWC team has been beaten at least twice.

The college football elite kept rolling toward their eventual holiday destinations Saturday. Top-Rated Nebraska overpowered Iowa State 37-0 behind Johnny Rodgers' two touchdowns. Rich Sanger's three field goals and a vicious defense.

Runner-up Oklahoma cooled off a bit—if you consider 407 rushing yards a comedown—but still defeated Missouri 20-3. Third-ranked Michigan, with a Rose Bowl berth virtually assured, bombed Iowa 63-7 as Ed Shuttlesworth paced a 493-yard ground barrage and fourth-ranked Alabama got a touchdown from Terry Davis and two field goals from no-relation Bill Davis and held off No. 18 Louisiana State 14-7.

Auburn, No. 5, piled up a 30-point lead after three periods and beat Mississippi State 30-21 while Lydell Mitchell rambled for 209 yards and five touchdowns as sixth-ranked Penn State crushed Maryland 63-27 and No. 7 Georgia battered Florida 49-7.

Rounding out the Top Ten, ninth-ranked Ohio State fell to Michigan State 17-10 and No. 10 Arizona State ripped Brigham Young 38-13.

Elsewhere, 12th-ranked Stanford nailed down its second straight trip to the Rose Bowl and Pacific 8 crown by turning back UCLA 20-9 while No. 17 Southern California ousted Washington State 30-20.

Toledo, No. 14, stretched its winning streak to 32—second longest of modern times—with a 23-9 triumph over Northern Illinois. Cornell ran its record to 7-0 and took over the Ivy League lead by beating Brown 21-7 while Columbia dumped Dartmouth from the unbeaten ranks 31-29 on Paul Kallades' 34-yard field goal with 48 seconds left.

In other games involving members of The Associated Press Second Ten, No. 11 Tennessee pasted South Carolina 35-6, No. 13 Colorado trimmed Kansas 35-14, No. 19 Houston whipped Memphis State 35-7 and No. 20 Washington tomahawked California 30-7.

Notre Dame's sudden explosion came after the Irish had averaged only 15 points a game in their previous six starts. "We went back to the basics," said Coach Ara Parseghian. "We ran the power sweeps and the power inside and mixed up our offensive formations. I would say by far this was our best game of the season offensively and defensively."

Would Notre Dame consider anything less than the Orange or Sugar Bowls, say the Gator or Liberty?

"I think everything is predicated on who we would play," said Parseghian. "I don't think we'd go to a bowl just for the sake of going to a bowl. Our job is to keep winning and get an invitation and we're hopeful of getting a bid against another top team. A lot can happen before the bids are made and it's going to be very confusing."

As expected, with Johnny Musso ailing and able to carry the ball only five times, Alabama had its hands full before Bear Bryant's team, making him No. 4—just like the Crimson Tide—on the all-time coaching list.

Bryant said the team trainer told him Musso, who suffered an early head injury on top of his sore shoulder, didn't sleep any Saturday night and "neither did I worrying about him. Johnny's got to have the ball 20-25 times a game."

MEXICAN CONQUEST—Spanish golfer Angel Gallardo, his cap already askew, is congratulated on winning the Mexican Open Sunday by his partner in the forthcoming World Cup. Gallardo's final shot was a 15-foot birdie putt. Looking on at right is Mexican Juan Neri, who finished in a tie for third with Lee Trevino. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Muldur Scores 7 Goals

Haledon Ace Sets Oehler Goal Record

MORGAN HILL, N.Y. — Nashda Muldur, a Turkish import with a perfect blend, set an Oehler Soccer Stadium scoring record Sunday when he drilled home a spectacular total of seven goals in leading powerful Haledon of New Jersey to an 8-1 rout of the luckless Kingston Sport Club Kickers.

The defeat is one of the worst ever suffered by the Kickers in their home ballpark. The Kickers remained slump-ridden with only one goal in each of their last five games.

Muldur dominated the action as no player in the history of Oehler Stadium. He scored his first goal at 18 minutes, then connected at 25, 35, 44, 47, 52 and 60 minutes.

The Kickers averted a shutout when Bob Joyet scored at the 28-minute mark. By that time Haledon had built up a 3-0 lead.

Kingston grabbed the initiative in the first 15 minutes, then things began to happen. "At the outset, we figured to be in the game all the way," said player-coach Henry Ingber. "But the tide started to turn when our tough defense man, Spiro Neofotis, had to leave the game with an injury."

Jon-Olaf Weber replaced Neofotis, but Muldur started to dominate the offense. "He was extremely tricky and his passes always found their mark," said Weber. Kingston made several good shots but never directly on goal.

"The Haledons, however, made their shots count, finding the corner on almost every try," Ingber explained. "I don't think it was a breakdown of the Kings."

ton defense but rather the overwhelming power of the Haledon offense that created the lopsided score.

Richie Bush and Ken Neslund played a strong second half for the Kickers, while Gene Ventriglia's all-round hustle drew praises from Coach Ingber.

But in the final analysis, the triglia's all-around hustle drew goal a day doesn't keep the wolf away.

Unknown Topples Trevino in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—"I for third place in the Mexican Open, which he had wanted to win very badly to put together four national open titles in one year. He won the U.S., Canadian and British Opens this year."

"I'm coming back to win this tournament next year and I'm coming one week early to practice," Trevino said. He added that it was very difficult to win two tournaments back-to-back, noting that he was fresh off his Sahara Invitational victory in Las Vegas the previous weekend.

The World Cup tournament starts on Thursday and Trevino left Monday morning on a direct Mexico City-Miami flight. At the awards ceremony, Trevino took the microphone and pledged to do all he could to make the next Mexican Open both a bigger and a better tournament.

He said that he would talk with the organizers about increasing the purse to about $70,000 or 80,000. Trevino donated his $2,333 check to Father William Wason, director of the "Our Little Brothers and Sisters" Catholic orphanage.

Trevino also received an honorary membership in the Mexican Professional Golf Association. He gave his golf cap and his ball away after the 18th hole, was besieged by fans and signed autographs on the backs of shirts, pieces of paper, golf clubs and whatever else was handy.

Nicklaus Takes Dunlop

SYDNEY, (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus won the $25,000 Dunlop golf title Sunday by seven strokes.

Nicklaus had a two-under-par 70, for a 14 under par 274 to pick up first prize money of $4,480.

"It was a good solid round of golf," Nicklaus said after his victory. "You try not to make any mistakes when you start the last day with a lead of five shots."

Nicklaus was often content to use a three wood, or even a one iron, off the tee because of a strong northwesterly wind that made things difficult for the players.

Nicklaus picked up five birdies and made the day's round appear little more than a purposeful stroll. His win followed last week's nine stroke victory in the Australian Open at Hobart, Tasmania.

Englishman Peter Oosterhuis, canned a 25-foot birdie putt at the final hole to share second place with Crampton, finishing with a 71.

Nicklaus was often content to use a three wood, or even a one iron, off the tee because of a strong northwesterly wind that made things difficult for the players.

Nicklaus picked up five birdies and made the day's round appear little more than a purposeful stroll. His win followed last week's nine stroke victory in the Australian Open at Hobart, Tasmania.

Englishman Peter Oosterhuis, canned a 25-foot birdie putt at the final hole to share second place with Crampton, finishing with a 71.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

LIFE AT 13: (Q.) Thirteen is too young to be kissing? Quit living in the past. Be real. Make it more like five is too young to be kissing.

Maybe kissing at 13 was against the law when you were 13. I didn't live then. I live now. Just try not to kiss and guess what you'll get called.

Times change. You had better learn to.—1971 Girl in Texas.

(A.) I DO know what you will be called (and probably correctly) if you keep practicing the policy you are preaching at age 13.

It is not a nice word.

Please don't try to kid yourself. You won't be 13 forever. You will be 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and on and on. Somewhere in there, unless you change your ideas and your habits, you will be in trouble.

COOLNESS: (Q.) I have liked a girl for about six months. I gave her a necklace. She wore it a while, then quit. She talks about other boys. But when somebody calls her my girl friend she doesn't argue with them.

She won't dance with me. I can't call her on the phone because her mother makes all kinds of rules about what she can't do. How can I find out if she likes me or doesn't?—Outsider in Virginia.

(A.) One of two things has happened to cause all this negativity. The girl has either lost interest in you or her mother has ruled you out for some reason.

Talk to the girl, face to face. Ask her what the facts are and if she still wants to be your girl friend.

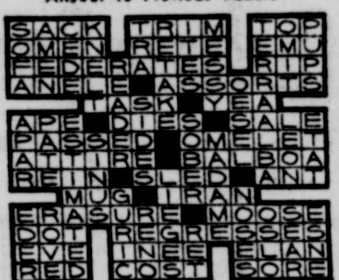

If the answer is no, ask her the reason, either hers or her mother's. Knowing this may help you get along better with your next girl friend.

Scientists Watch for Amchitka Blast Signs

AMCHITKA, Alaska (UPI) — Scientists watched today for the first signs of collapse in the surface at ground zero more than a mile above successful explosion of a five-megaton nuclear warhead on Amchitka Island.

A dish-shaped crater upwards of 50 feet deep and 2,000 feet wide is expected to form when super thermal temperatures cool and pressure recedes in the underground chamber created by the Cannikin test Saturday.

The blast caused the largest earth tremor ever produced by man, rocking the island with heaving, buckling motion. But fears it would set off disastrous earthquakes and tidal waves proved unfounded.

Dave Jackson, Atomic Energy Commission information officer, said it may take as long as two or three days for the crater to develop because of the depth of the explosion from the surface.

As the earth slides back into the hollow cavity from above, The Milrow explosion was nearly 2,000 feet closer to the earth's surface than the Cannikin test.

Jackson discounted any possibility of radioactive leakage as the crater develops. "In effect, it will work to seal in the radiation," he said.

However, monitoring devices are being maintained to continuously sample air and water in the island's vicinity.

AEC Chairman James R. Schlesinger and congressional observers left the island Sunday for Washington, D.C., as project engineers returned to the island to complete restoration work and collect scientific data.

The information will be sent to AEC laboratories in Nevada and to various universities and institutes involved in the project.

When it is determined that filling of the underground explosion chamber is complete, Jackson said a special drilling rig will be used to bore into the site. Core samples will be obtained to determine radioactivity levels.

Schlesinger said the success of the Cannikin test indicates that no further tests are necessary on the remote island at this time.

But another test hole, 12 feet wide and 4,500 feet deep, is available on the island a few miles northwest of the Cannikin site. The uncompleted test hole has been sealed, but Jackson said there has been no decision on its future use.

The Cannikin project was designed to test the five-megaton Spartan warhead for the Anti-Ballistic Missile System. Officials said the test was necessary for national defense.

AEC officials said no radiation "whatsoever" escaped from the 53-inch diameter test shaft drilled more than a mile into Amchitka Island, a bleak dot in the Aleutians about 1,200 miles southwest of Anchorage.

The blast — 250 times as powerful as the bomb dropped on Hiroshima during World War II — tilted the trailers a half-mile from the bomb shaft and caused "considerable damage" to two small buildings at ground zero.

The island earth movement also caused damage to a service road about a mile and a half from the blast site and heavy equipment was sent to the scene Sunday to repair the highway.

The results of the test vindicated AEC scientists who had insisted the explosion could be conducted safely despite environmentalists' concern about possible disastrous earthquakes, tidal waves and radiation leaks into the atmosphere.

The protesters took their objections all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court, which held an extraordinary Saturday session and voted 4-3 to permit the test only five hours before the blast.

Schlesinger, who took his wife and two of his daughters to Amchitka for the test, said the results were "well within our projections. Our confidence in the safe conduct of this test has been amply justified."

Conflict of Interest Questions

Powell Faces Senate Judiciary Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court nominee Lewis F. Powell Jr. goes before the Senate Judiciary Committee today to face possible questions about what he intends to do with his stock holdings to avoid conflicts of interest.

The 64-year-old Richmond,

Va., lawyer, a former president of the American Bar Association, has said he is willing to place his investments in a blind trust or do whatever else is necessary and proper.

The committee has not indicated what arrangement it would consider satisfactory.

A financial disclosure statement submitted to the committee in advance of his testimony showed ownership of stocks and other securities worth more than $1 million.

Powell, nominated by President Nixon to succeed the late Hugo L. Black on the court, made a brief appearance before the committee last Thursday when he was presented by Virginia's senators. The state's entire congressional delegation was on hand, along with seven past presidents of the ABA, to lend their support.

However, testimony by Powell was delayed until today by two days of questioning Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist, nominated by Nixon for a second vacancy on the court created by the retirement of John M. Harlan.

Once Powell's testimony is completed, the committee plans to hear from spokesmen for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, Americans for Democratic Action, and other outside witnesses.

Committee action on the nominations announced by Nixon on Oct. 21, appears possible before the end of the week. The Supreme Court has rearranged its schedule awaiting the filling of the two vacancies.

Although Nixon described both nominees as judicial conservatives, liberals in and out of Congress have concentrated their opposition on Rehnquist, who has served in the Justice Department as counsel for Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and the President.

The ABA's 12-member committee on the federal judiciary, in a unanimous report last week, said: "Mr. Powell meets, in an exceptional degree, high standards of professional competence, judicial temperament and integrity."

The ABA committee rated both men highly qualified for the court, although on Rehnquist, three members dissented and proposed instead that the ABA say only that it did not oppose his nomination.

Rehnquist, who took his wife and two of his daughters to Amchitka for the test, said the results were "well within our projections. Our confidence in the safe conduct of this test has been amply justified."

Chinese Delegation En Route to U.N.

PARIS (UPI) — A delegation of Chinese Communist officials left Paris today en route to New York to make preliminary arrangements for Peking's takeover of the China seat in the United Nations.

Police in New York said the Chinese delegation was due from Paris at 12:15 p.m. EST, aboard an Air France jetliner.

The Chinese, wearing Mao-style suits, landed at Le Bourget airfield from Canton by way of Karachi and Damascus aboard a Pakistani International Airlines jet Sunday night. They had been scheduled to arrive at Orly airport but it was fogged in.

Chinese diplomats met the group and took them into Paris aboard a minibus driven by a chauffeur from the Chinese embassy.

Smiling and chatting, the Chinese grinned for photographers but declined to identify themselves. French police at Le Bourget described them as "functionaries" of the Peoples Republic of China but said "we have no information."

The group appeared to be a relatively low-level delegation from a diplomatic standpoint since Chinese Ambassador Huang Chen did not show up and sent a minor level group of diplomats to the airport to greet the Peking visitors.

Peking had announced its regular delegation to the United Nations would be led by Chiao Kuan-hua, vice minister of foreign affairs. He was not among the group.

The regular delegation was expected either Wednesday or Thursday.

How quickly the Communist Chinese would establish their presence in other U.N. bodies was not clear. The delegation which stopped in Paris Sunday night was obviously meant to arrange for housing and office space and for the first appearance of the regular delegation from Peking in the United Nations itself.

The U.N. General Assembly and its committees scheduled routine business for the next two days. It included financial matters, the report of the International Atomic Energy Agency and other items ranging from peaceful uses of outer space to the South African racial segregation policy known as apartheid.

Israeli Official Issues Warning

By United Press International

Israel's ambassador to Washington, Yitzhak Rabin, will return home this week for "urgent consultations" on a possible "major confrontation" with the United States, the Jerusalem Post said today.

"Relations between Israel and the U.S. are believed moving toward a major confrontation," the Post said. "Reports have reached Jerusalem that the administration in Washington has decided not to resume the supply of Phantom (jet) aircraft to Israel for the time being."

The report was not confirmed officially.

"Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin is expected to come to Jerusalem this week for urgent consultations on the situation," the newspaper said.

Cairo's semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram said today President Anwar Sadat told four African leaders on a Middle East peace mission that Egypt seeks an over-all settlement of the conflict pegged only on Israel's withdrawal from all occupied Arab territories.

Egypt insists on implementation of all clauses of the U.N. Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967, Sadat reportedly said, making it clear that Israel can either have peace or have the occupied Arab lands — but not both.

The Africans — Presidents Leopold Senghor of Senegal and Ahmadou Ahidjo of Cameroon, Gen. Yakubu Gowon of Nigeria and Gen. Joseph Mobutu of Zaire (Congo) — ended their weeklong visit to Israel and Egypt today.

They were delegated by the Organization of African Unity (OAU) to visit the Middle East and help Egypt and Israel reach a settlement based on the Security Council resolution. They return to Israel for more talks Nov. 16 and to Cairo two days later.

Sadat told the leaders that the Israeli "aggression against Egypt was a part of the colonialist offensive against Africa" and that the "defense of Egypt's freedom is indivisible from the defense of Africa's freedom."

Senegalese President Senghor, who headed the mission, replied that the four would work to arrange a compromise solution that would safeguard the territorial integrity of the countries involved in the conflict.
